

Kanchana Woraurai

Kanchana Woraurai was born on December 10th, 1948 in Chiang Mai. She went to nursing school after high school, excelled at her profession, and was successful in a number of nursing specialties. However, Kanchana was restless and had an inner desire to find a more fulfilling life.

In 1976 she traveled to the United States to visit friends. She stayed and studied nursing in Chicago, Illinois for three years. Kanchana became a US Licensed Nurse, and later worked in Los Angeles, California. She returned to Thailand in 1994 and raised her daughter. In 2003 her sister-in-law brought her to visit Phra Vichien, and after meeting him, Kanchana left her secular life to help both Phra Vichien and the patients.
